

Website Terms and Conditions, Privacy Policy and Disclaimer

Dear Visitor

Data Protection and Privacy Policy:

We may collect information about visits to www.aspree.org (such as your IP address, browser, pages visited, date and time of the visit) for the purpose of analysis and to improve the usability of the site.

Monash University websites use cookies. A cookie is a small message given to your web browser by our web server. The browser stores the message in a text file and the message is then sent back to the server each time the browser requests a page from the server. It is possible to disable the acceptance of cookies by your web browser. However, doing so may restrict your ability to access some web pages.

You can read Monash University's data collection and privacy procedures and collection statements here and Monash websites terms and conditions here.

Website information:

Content on www.aspree.org was developed from a variety of resources with the aim to provide general information about the ASPREE project and aspirin research. We endeavour to ensure the information on www.aspree.org is accurate and current, and we may amend the information on this website at any time and without notice.

As such, the ASPREE Project is not liable for any error or omission on this website or for any injury, loss or damage incurred by reliance on the information on these pages. We strongly recommend that a GP or a physician is sought for medical and health advice.

ASPREE and ASPREE-XT study participants are always welcome to ring the ASPREE team (1800 728 745, toll free from a landline) to discuss study related concerns.

We will, in good faith, provide links to third party websites that relate to the ASPREE project for convenience and interest, however, we are not responsible for the accuracy and reliability of information, or the opinions implied or expressed, on these sites.

Monash University's full disclaimer and copyright disclosure policy can be viewed here.
